

Organizers:

SCHOOL OF PUBLIC & INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS

Supporting Institutions:

Instituto de Relações Internacionais
Universidade de São Paulo

Núcleo de Política
Comparada e
Internacional

Workshop – Brazil-US Relations: public and foreign policy

May 12-16, 2014

University of São Paulo, Institute of International Relations

May 12, Monday

IRI, 1st Floor

2:30pm – Democracy and Distributive Politics in Brazil

Lorena Barberia (Department of Political Science/USP).

The aim of the lecture is to present an overview of the effects of democratization over the welfare of the poor, and in a longer-run, over social policies structure in Brazil with emphasis on the case of Bolsa Familia program

May 13, Tuesday

IRI, 1st Floor

9:30 – Bilateral relationship between Brazil and US

Carlos Eduardo Lins da Silva (editor, Política Externa, Journal of Current Affairs)

Analysis of bilateral relations between Brazil and US and perceptions of Brazilian elites about US's foreign policy.

May 14, Wednesday

Faculty of Economics (FEA), Room A-2

9:30am – Biodiversity and Socially Responsible

João Paulo Veiga (Department of Political Science, coordinator of the Project Sustainability of Brazilian Rainforest Products for the Natural Cosmetics Market).

The aim of this project is to assess the impact of the partnership between public and private actors in terms of socioeconomic development and environmental sustainability in a network of stakeholders and local extractives families which manage the seeds as a Common Pool Resource.

May 15, Thursday

IRI, Sala da Congregação

5:30pm – A Turn Toward Experimentalism? Rethinking Security and Governance in The 21st century

Mark Nance (School of Public and International Affairs, North Carolina State University)

May 16, Friday

Faculty of Economics (FEA), Room A-2

9:30 – Strategies and attitudes of Brazilian interest groups

Diego Bonomo (Executive Manager, Foreign Trade Unit, National Confederation of Industry (CNI))

Strategies and attitudes of Brazilian interest groups/lobbies toward Brazilian trade policy and US' Legislative Branch: limits and possibility.